Washington, May 29", 1883.

Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 26th instant, in reply to my letter of the 25th, in relation to a daily report of the condition of the Bullion Fund, and in reply beg to say that as the Seigniorage seemed to be a barrier to making such report, it was thought that it might be more practicable for you to include that amount in your report, but that item is not required by this office.

This office does desire, however, and it is necessary that it should have, a daily statement from you, showing the amount you have on hand of gold coin by denominations; of gold Bullion, Bars &c.; of Standard Silver Dollars and of fractional silver coin, Silver Bullion, Bars &c.; Minor coins; U.S. Notes and the amount of your credit with any Assistant

Treasurer

Treasurer of the United States with whom you have an account.

It would seem that these items can as readily be reported to this office daily, as they have been heretofore, notwithstanding the subdivision of the Bullion Fund required by the Director of the Mint.

Very respectfully,

Treasurer U.S.

Hon. A. Loudon Snowden,
Supt. Mint U.S.,
